

Lecturer/Senior Lecturer of Audiology

COLLEGE OF SCIENCE

Department of Communication Disorders

University of Canterbury, Christchurch, New Zealand.

Vacancy number: 273-08J

Review date: 19 September 2008

Closing date: 17 October 2008

Applications are invited for the position of Lecturer/Senior Lecturer in Audiology (equivalent to US Assistant/Associate Professor). Applicants should have a Ph.D. or equivalent degree in the field of Audiology or hearing science, and be able to demonstrate potential in research and teaching in this area. The appointee will be required to teach both undergraduate and graduate courses, contribute to teaching in other core areas, and supervise graduate student research. Automatic tenure is granted with the appointment.

The successful applicant should be able to inspire and motivate students, and work within a collegial environment. The successful applicant will have expertise in amplification, hearing aids, psychoacoustics, or aural rehabilitation, and will be expected to publish regularly in high-quality journals and actively seek research funding.

Enquiries of an academic nature may be made to Dr. Catherine Moran, Chair of Selection Panel, at catherine.moran@canterbury.ac.nz.

The Department is committed to equality in the workplace and applications from all suitably qualified persons are encouraged. The University reserves the right to make an appointment prior to the closing date.

For detailed information and to apply online visit:

<http://vacancies.canterbury.ac.nz/> .